H. S. Board Plans For Next Year

The Antioch Township High School Board made plans for the '63-64 school year at its meeting Wednesday night.

The equipment committee, comprising William Brook, chairman, Milburn Cain and Roger Prossie, recommended three major items to the board for purchase.

The board sanctioned the installation of a Foreign Language Laboratory. This includes the installation of electronic equipment, with earphones, etc., for 28 students.

The board also approved the purchase of a new and larger tractor and additional moving equipment to take care of the larger grounds the high school now has.

The third item recommended by the committee and approved for purchase was electronic teaching aids for the Industrial Arts Department. In the past, the department has been limited to teaching basic principles of electricity. Albert Dittman, superintendent, said this would permit the teaching to students of electronic principles, more in step with present-day need.

The board hired five new teachers for the '63-64 school year. They are:

Mrs. Arleen Molinarolo, who has five years of teaching experience, the last three years at Galva High School at Galva, Ill. She will be employed to the Home Economics department.

Charles Lindholm, who has been employed for seven years at Richmond-Burton High School as Director of Counselors. He will teach Social Studies and do counseling.

Donald Beveroth, who has taught five years at Petersburg-Harris High School at Petersburg, Ill. He has a Master's Degree in English from Western Illinois University and will teach English.

Adrian Mueller, attending Stout State College at McMonies, Wis., will teach Industrial Arts in the area of drafting.

Mrs. Mary Boehler, a June graduate of Wisconsin State College at Whitewater, Wis. She is a resident of Mt. Horeb, Wis., and will teach English and Speech.

The board voted to renew its contract for student accident insurance with John Romer of the Sexauer Co.

President of the Board Robert Denman appointed a temporary Building and Grounds committee to consider the area across the tracks from the school. They will consider, among other things, the advisability of installing rest rooms, bleachers, etc. in this area. The committee includes Milburn Cain, chairman, Boyd Osmond and Dr. Richard Ripley.

The president also appointed a 1963-64 budget committee, of Dr. Richard Ripley, chairman, Lorraine Cheatham and Roger Prossie. The committee will determine the budget needs of the school for next year and determine the tax levy which will be needed.

The Board of Education granted an easement to the village, at the request of the village board, to run a 12-inch sewer main through high school property. The sewer will run along the west line of the railroad tracks to 173, thence to Route 21. The high school will be allowed to tie into the sewer line, which will simplify the servicing of rest rooms in the athletic area east of the tracks.

Lawrence Eggleston, who has been teaching in the English department at the high school, will be relieved of part of his teaching duties to become Dean of Boys, relieving Assistant Principal Warren Polley of this position.

Miss Martha Heindl, school nurse, who has been working at the school six hours a day, will begin a full eight-hour day at the beginning of '63-64.

The board extended '63-64 contracts to William Kanemerer, Guidance Counselor; Warren Polley, assistant principal; and Albert Dittman, principal.

The P.T.A. of the Antioch High School, planning next year's program, asked the board to attend the April, 1964, meeting and discuss various aspects of Board work. The Board accepted the invitation.

Red Cross To Elect Directors At Meeting

The Lake County Chapter of the American Red Cross was presented with a Letter of Appreciation recently by Captain Lloyd F. Miller, Officer in charge of Naval Medical Research Unit No. 4. The award was in recognition of the chapter's contribution in the one-day operation in which 1,034 units of whole blood were collected.

C. C. Group Formed In Antioch

As a result of a meeting held Wednesday night, May 15, at the State Bank building, Antioch has a new chamber of commerce. A group of village merchants and business men at the meeting Wednesday, voted to reorganize the Chamber and make a concerted effort to stimulate business and generally promote the Antioch area.

The group voted unanimously to accept a slate of officers proposed by previously formed steering committee. Heading the new Chamber will be Bill Brook of the State Bank of Antioch, serving as vice presidents will be Carl Seemann and John Stevens, Treasurer, Marion Pechousek, and Secretary, Howard Shepard.

On the board of directors of the new organization will be Jean Gressens, Bette Meyer, Elmer Baethke, and Joe Patrovsky. The first official board meeting for the group has been called for Thursday evening, May 23, 8 p.m. at the State Bank of Antioch.

Bette Meyer, chairman of the promotion and advertising committee of the new organization, reported on the first sales promotion of the group scheduled for early in June. A tentative date of June 6, 7 and 8 has been set.

The committee has developed a new wrinkle in a sales promotion as they plan to mail out shopping bags enclosed in a flyer listing all the items on sale. Called a "77c Sale", shoppers receiving the bags can bring them to town on the sale dates and fill them with the 77c bargains.

Every merchant participating has been urged to give a genuine bargain so as to insure the success of the sale. More ideas using the shop-

Saturday is Poppy Day

Saturday, May 25, is Poppy Day. The day when millions of Illinois citizens will proudly display the little red memorial flower that was nurtured by the blood of America's fallen heroes, and assembled by the paraplegics, amputees and disabled of America's great wars.

So stated Eric Smith, Department Commander of the Illinois American Legion, in an interview on the eve of the Annual American Legion and the American Legion Auxiliary Poppy Day.

"Our Veterans' Administration and State Hospitals," explained Commander Smith, "are still filled with disabled veterans of World War I, II, and the Korean Conflict." Many of these veterans participated in the assembling of these poppies. A large poppy distribution will mean cash benefits to these veterans in the form of compensation for their efforts. The remainder of the funds collected will mean continued service and relief work to these same needy disabled veterans, their dependents, and the continuation of our child welfare program.

Chant of the Auctioneer Takes Over Friday Night

Plenty of action and mounting suspense means just one thing to the Antioch Garden Club members: the Plant Auction, starting at 7:30 p.m. on Friday, May 24, at 381 Lake St., Antioch.

It's a big day for the husbands of Garden Club members, too. This is the day all those pesky pots, flats and what-have-you that he's been stumbling over for weeks finally leave home and go to market. His wife may have a free moment for him occasionally, now that she isn't spending every waking moment tenderly nursing infant petunias, peppers and pansies.

Garden Club members have been working for weeks to grow all the varieties of flowers and vegetables home-owners might want for their yards and gardens. Now they'll sell their horticultural treasures to the highest bidder at Friday night's big auction in the old Gibbs & Jensen store.

This is clean-up week in Antioch. Now that village trucks have hauled away the trash that every home collects, you can brighten up your yard with plants and flowers, and have all the fun and excitement of an auction.

Mrs. Ray Boller, Chairman of the Auction, says, "Attention, Gardeners—We'll supply your garden plants on the auctioneer's block. It's up to you whether you want bright, gay annuals or sturdy perennials in vibrant colors; house-loving plants or luscious vegetables full of miner's hot peppers or Snow-on-the-mountain; they are yours for the bidding!"

Mrs. Bierman Heads Salvation Army Drive

Mrs. John W. Bierman, Box 741, Antioch, will serve as chairman for Channel Lake for "Doughnut Day", the Salvation Army's annual tag day.

Doughnut Day will be held on Friday, June 7. Mrs. Bierman has arranged for volunteers from the seventh and eighth grades of Channel Lake School to go door to door on that day selling the paper doughnuts and asking for your contributions.

The Lake County Public Health Department recently received the Crumline award when it was judged as having the best overall sanitation of a local health department in the U.S.

The award was presented to Ward Duell, Wooster Lake, Ingleside, supervisor of sanitation of Western Lake County, and Eugene Theios, Wadsworth, supervisor of sanitation of eastern Lake County, by Howard Hough, Editor of the Health Officer's News Digest. The presentation was made at a meeting of Health Department officials at the Pantlind Hotel in Grand Rapids, Mich.

The award went to the Lake County Health Dept. in open competition among 1200 Public Health Departments in the U.S. The judging team was made up of a representative from the Public Health Service, one judge from the University of Indiana and a representative from industry.

Four outstanding points led to the award. (1) a particularly well-prepared staff; (2) a program of supervision of recreational facilities which is unique, covering lakes and streams, cabin cruisers (sealing of toilet facilities), recreational camping, overall surveillance of surface waters, and cleaning up the ice on lakes, sewage, etc. (3) Overall approach to administration, organizing and planning of surveys. (4) Excellent relationship with the public. The department maintains a good working relation with village officials, subdivision associations and newspapers.

A plaque will be given locally in recognition of the award at a later date.

The Lake County Health Dept. will meet with camp administrators of Lake County at a dinner meeting next Thursday at Camp Duncan from 4 p.m. to 9 p.m. A tour of the camp and a review of its program will be one feature of the meeting. Wm. Garrison of Petite Lake will speak on Helpful Hints on Food Programs in Camp; Robba Kellogg, Supervising Nurse of the Health Department, will discuss the responsibilities of the Camp Nurse and Adolph Kiefer will discuss the problems and cure of restoring the camp swimming pool which has lain idle for months.

WARD DUEL AND EUGENE THEIOS, supervising sanitarians of Western and Eastern Lake County, receive the Crumline Award for the Lake County Health Department at a recent meeting of Health Department officials in Grand Rapids, Mich.

The Poppy of Freedom

Saturday is Poppy Day, the day you'll be asked to buy a flower made by the hands of men who relinquished their ability to do a greater work to buy a few more years of freedom for the rest of us.

The wars in which they lost their health or their limbs were not "the war that made the world safe for democracy" or "the war that ended all wars," as they had hoped. War never is. A small percentage of each generation must make the payment of sacrifice which holds for all of us the precious freedom on which final payment is never made.

The poppies are made by hands which might have wielded a surgeon's knife, or an artist's brush, a welder's torch or a carpenter's hammer. War made them unfit for these more rewarding occupations. They earn what they can, and keep hands and minds busy now, making the poppies.

Perhaps you'll buy and wear the poppy this Saturday in remembrance of someone from your own family who gave his life or health for his fellow-men. Perhaps you'll wear it in gratitude that your family circle is still complete. In either case, the money you pay for the poppy is not a donation. It's a very small payment on a very large debt.

It's Brand Names Week

This is National Name Brands Week, a fact which will probably make little impression on the general populace. With everything from pickles to pie proclaiming a day or a week as it's own, the public has learned to pointedly ignore all but the few traditional celebrations which mean a day off from work.

Name Brands are important to the consumer, though. They're a guarantee that the product you buy this week will be similar in quality to the one you bought last week under the same name. If it weren't for that familiar brand name, every product you purchased would be a gamble. There may be many well-known brands which don't suit your particular taste, or don't meet your needs. You won't buy them again. If it weren't for the identification of brand names, you would find yourself in the vexing position of repeatedly purchasing a product you didn't like.

Brand names help the retailer select his stock, too. He soon learns which product his customers want, and which are consistent in quality. They help him to serve his customer with a minimum of loss.

Despite the sometimes tiresome ballyhooing of certain brands via the TV, and the occasional fun-poking satirical comparisons of Brand X and Brand Blank which we all enjoy, Brand names are important to us all.

Going out to relax and get some healthful exercise on the golf course? Well, check your insurance, make sure you're carrying your identification card, and bid a fond farewell to the wife and kids. According to the Institute for Safer Living, the nation's golf courses are rivaling the skiing slopes in physical injuries. The introduction of the motor cart to the fairways has contributed an element of hazard to the game that has nothing to do with the planned hazards.

It's the nut that holds the wheel that's causing the trouble, says the Institute, not the cart itself. The reckless driver is just as bad on the golf course as on the highway, and has resulted in 1,300 disabling injuries this past year.

18,000 disabling injuries during 1962, compared to 15,000 for the previous year,

Your Governor Reports

by OTTO KERNER

Illinois is taking firm steps in the vital mission of giving citizens whose skills have been thrown on the scrap pile by automation the opportunity to acquire new skills for a successful return to the labor market.

This mission is an urgent part of our broad attack on joblessness. A great boost was given in this area by the federal Area Redevelopment and the Manpower Development and Training Acts.

A total of 70 programs under these acts have already been completed, are currently in progress or are about to begin in Illinois. More than 5,000 persons are affected. A total of 3,200 more men and women will be included in 43 new programs now in the planning stage.

We have made an excellent start, especially considering the fact that the federal project became reality only last year. Much remains to be done and I am giving every impetus to the program.

In a recent announcement, I said: "It is noteworthy that Illinois already has utilized all the funds allocated to it for these programs and is now using funds other states had allocated to them and did not take advantage of."

Three state agencies are engaged with the program: the Department of Labor, the State Employment Service and the Board of Vocational Education.

The Department of Labor determines fields in which great shortages of skilled and trained workers exist. The Employment Service must screen, counsel and test thousands of potential trainees. The Board of Vocational Education prepares curricula, secures training facilities and hires teachers, and sets up training classes where they are needed in the state.

The importance of the program is obvious. The technological changes sweeping Illinois, the nation and the world not only hold immense promise for a better life for all, but are creating new and more jobs. However, the immediate impact means that some men and women have been thrown out of work. We have an obligation to help these people, who need help now.

The effect of the program also is obvious. We are putting people to work. They are not only helping themselves, but the economy of Illinois as well. This is especially true when one sees that trainees include public aid recipients. The acquisition of new skills helps them secure a job, gives industry needed skilled workers and reduces the cost of public assistance.

Retraining is one of our many programs aimed at striking at the heart of the problem of unemployment.

SIDELIGHTS from SPRINGFIELD

By Sen. PAUL SIMON

If you are interested in what is happening to small business in the nation, one of the issues which should have your interest is that of branch banking.

Both from Washington and from Springfield proposals for a change in the law to permit banks to establish branches are again in the news.

One of the more interesting publications to cross my desk recently was a 541-page report on "Chain Banking" by Texas Congressman Wright Patman's Committee on Small Business.

In the midst of all the tables of statistics this one fact is clear—it is easier for a bank to make one loan of $1,000,000, for example, than it is to make 100 loans of $10,000 each. This means a somewhat natural tendency for banks to loan to the big, solid business rather than to the small businessman or individual.

Sen. Paul Douglas of Illinois is quoted as saying: "I have talked with a great many people in Great Britain and a few in Canada, and their almost unanimous opinion is that the concentration of banking led to a concentration of industry."

This concentration of industry—whether in the banking field or any other—is something that generally should be avoided. It is particularly dangerous in the banking field because banks are the life-blood of small business.

That there is already too much concentration is clear from these striking figures in the report: there are 13,400 commercial banks in the United States—and the 306 largest of these hold over 60 per cent of the deposits!

The 10 largest banks in the country—and this includes the two big Chicago banks that are pushing branch banking in Illinois—now have about 22 per cent of the total deposits of the nation.

The report states: "The most serious danger of a branch banking system is the fact that local enterprises may be stifled. The local independent banker is interested in promoting local enterprise. He does not have to clear with a home office located in some remote metropolis. He is interested in bringing employment opportunities to the community. The branch bank, however, caters to the large, well-established businesses."

Even in Illinois, with the safeguards we have, it is clear that the two big banks in Chicago could have a powerful voice in the smaller banks if they wanted it—through loans which are on the books.

James C. Downs, Jr., chairman of the Bank of Oakbrook (Illinois), is also chairman of the move to get branch banking in the state. According to the congressional report, he has a loan of $100,000 from the First National Bank of Chicago on his stock in the Oakbrook bank. That stock is 3,060 shares and represents 26 per cent of the stock of the Oakbrook bank. If the First National Bank of Chicago would want to have a voice in the affairs of the Oakbrook bank, it might be in a position to have it.

In cases of other banks in Illinois, these two banks have loans on as much as 88 per cent of the stock of a local bank. The number of such loans was shocking to me—and I guess it would be to many people in the state, if they knew about it.

If you want evidence that concentration of banking power is not a good thing, write to Washington and get Congressman Patman's Committee report. It costs $1.50 but it is well worth it.

During the past several months you have generously provided extensive coverage of the 1963 Easter Seal Campaign, coverage which has aided materially in helping us raise money to carry on the functions and activities of the Lake County Easter Seal Society.

I wish it were possible to say we went well over our goal, but actually we have fallen short throughout Lake County.

A final report will be provided in the next few weeks so that your readers may be informed on the results of the campaign.

In the meantime on behalf of the Lake County Easter Seal Society I want to thank you for your valuable assistance and cooperation.

Courthouse Notebook

BY LOU DUNKIN

The announcement by Charles Percy, youthful camera company head, that he would seek the Republican nomination for governor in the 1964 primary election is being greeted with enthusiasm in many corners of Lake County.

There is a feeling that Gov. Otto Kerner can be had on his next outing, but it will take a fresh, new face to do it, despite the unquestioned strength and popularity of Secretary of State Charles F. Carpenter.

The big argument being used against Carpenter is that he is too old, but actually there is feeling that he represents a segment of the Republican Party resistant to change and inclined to a plodding assault on the problems facing Illinois.

Bold, decisive, imaginative leadership is the need in the state today, leadership which even many Democrats feel Gov. Kerner has not offered.

If Percy, whose success in the business world has been outstanding, can display solid political acumen, a commodity not always plentiful in businessman candidates, he would make a strong, popular candidate.

Almost certain to align themselves with Percy are State Treasurer Bill Scott and Cook County Sheriff Richard Ogilvie, an alliance that would put the young, rising members of the party in opposition to the old war horses of the party such as Carpenter and Elmer Hoffman, Carpenter's probable running mate for Secretary of State.

This might be a good time for the Lake County political leaders to insist on offering a top rung candidate to round out the primary slate of one side or the other. Or it might be a good time for one of the slate leaders to seek a Lake County running-mate.

There is a rumble to the effect that GOP County Chairman Robert J. Milton is laying the groundwork to run for Clerk of the Appellate court in the new appeal court alignment stemming from the blue ballot judicial reform.

Milton, whose mail these days carries a number of forwarding addresses, is counting heavily on his fellow county chairmen in the 13 county Appellate district to promote his candidacy.

One serious drawback to Milton's candidacy seems to be the attitude among many Lake County people that this county should have one of the three judges to be elected to the bench, and, politics being what they are, it is highly unlikely that Lake County would get a judge and the court clerk.

If Milton does become a candidate for the clerk's post the chances of a Lake County man getting the judgeship are automatically lessened.

Judges for the new court district will be appointed temporarily by the Illinois Supreme Court and will take office Jan. 1, 1964, but will have to go through a judicial convention and election in November, 1964.

There is a good chance the interim appointment will go to a Lake County judge if the road is clear for his later candidacy.

Proponents of moving the county seat of Lake County to the county farm property in Libertyville have cut themselves a major undertaking.

Of course the idea behind the petitions being circulated to call a special election for next November isn't to move the county seat at all, but is designed to throw another road block in front of the proposed new court house.

Supporters of the plan apparently feel that the county board and the county building commission will be obligated to delay action on the new building pending the outcome of the petition effort and the referendum.

This would appear to be wishful thinking. It's a good bet that plans will proceed as swiftly as possible to get the first shovel of dirt turned and hamstring further delaying tactics.

If supporters of the county seat move can secure upwards of 42,000 signatures on their petitions in time to get the proposition on a ballot for the first Tuesday in November they will have ac-

BELIEVE IT OR NOT, these are ladies of the Literary Group of the Antioch Woman's Club at a luncheon meeting of that group. Front, Edith (Blacksmith) Elms, Annette (Casey) Lubkeman, Mrs. O. R. (Tees) Kresse, Mrs. O. W. (Sailor) Turner and Ruth (Madam) Pickus.

Maud Muller & The Village Blacksmith at Club Luncheon

The garb of the ladies of the Literary Group of the Woman's Club bore little resemblance to that generally sported by staid and respectable matrons at an afternoon luncheon when they gathered at the Kresse home last Thursday. A baseball suit, a ragged dress on a barefoot maid, and jeans and a leather apron were among the costumes displayed by the usually well-dressed ladies.

It was all for fun and a bit of poetry. The ladies appeared as a familiar poem, and everyone tried to guess who everyone represented.

Helen Nelson kept the group puzzled the longest. As "Maud Muller" on a summer's day, raked the meadows sweet with hay, she was barefoot and wore a torn and faded house dress and a straw hat.

Lily Petty, in a green dress and hat bright with yellow daffodils, "wandered, lonely as a cloud," and didn't puzzle her friends too long. Annette Lubkeman, as a baseball player, was "Casey at the Bat."

Polly Bruhn, with a hat labeled "Tourist" and wearing a page from a calendar (the month of April) on one shoulder and a map of the British Isles on the other, might have stumped guessers if an English visitor had not been present. She quickly guessed, "Ah, to be in England, Now that April's here," Edith Elms, in jeans and a leather apron, was quickly identified as "The Village Blacksmith." Phyllis McMillen, carrying a water pail and a loaf of bread, fooled no one for long, though Omar Khayyam might have turned over in his grave at the thought of carrying a loaf of sliced bread in a plastic bag into the wilderness. Or perhaps he would have appreciated it.

Joan Larson, in a gold lame outfit with a Japanese air, translated her bit of poetry freely into English as "I feel so different in my new clothes that I must look different." In Japanese it's poetry.

Ruth Pickus, in appropriate costume, read "The Madam and the Minister." Mrs. O. W. Turner, in a complete Sailor outfit, delivered "A Sailor Gropes for Words." Mrs. O. R. Kresse, the hostess, was able to furnish background music for her production, and appeared carrying a sizeable portion of a mulberry tree while the hi-fi played a beautiful rendition of "Trees."

With the fun of the afternoon finished, the ladies voted to support Mrs. W. C. Petty's suggestion that they join the Friends of the Library group. This group, now being formed, hopes to bring to the attention of the public the need for a new and larger library on the site of the present old and cramped quarters. The ladies also voted to have their first fall meeting in September.

"The Milwaukee conference will be held at the County Stadium, 201 South 48th Street, which is the home of the Milwaukee Braves, Baseball Club," Willett said.

"It was wonderful," Mrs. Dickson said, "till they called for a speech. I was petrified."

This week's Christian Science program "HEALTH AND GOD'S LAW"

Explains that real health comes about through the action of God's law—a spiritual force that purifies and regenerates our thinking. This fundamental change in consciousness produces a healing effect on the body.

The law of the Lord is perfect, converting the soul (Ps. 19:7). Experience is told of a woman who was completely healed of rheumatoid arthritis after beginning to study Christian Science and learning to understand and trust in God's power.

This is the Seniors' last week of school. Today and tomorrow they are taking their final tests. The rest of the students will take finals next Wednesday and Friday.

At an assembly yesterday Janet Polley and Joan Stepenske were given the Salutatorian and Salutatorian awards. Janet, who has never received a grade lower than an A, has attended ATIS all four years. Joan has been here for two years.

During the awards program before the band concert last Saturday night, Judy Turner and Joan Stepenske received the Arion Award. This is the first time two students have shared this honor. Frank Ehrhardt was chosen the winner of the John Philip Sousa Award, for the outstanding band student. Frank has been in Senior Band four years and plans to go on in music.

Next Saturday members of the Bi-Phi-Chem will take a trip to the Museum of Science and Industry. The Club is also sponsoring a student to a summer conservation workshop, although the name of the chosen student has not yet been announced.

Last Friday to commemorate National Future Nurses' Club Day the FNA sponsored a lecture by the director of the Lake County Mental Health Association. The lecture concerned mental health as well as mental illness.

This is the end of the school year and thus the end of many activities until next fall. The last Tom Tom will be published tomorrow. The Sequoias are being distributed. Many clubs are having their last meeting, summing up the year's activities, and electing officers for next year. And, the seniors are saying good-bye with mixed emotions to the school that has been almost their home for the last four years.

The board authorized the purchase of furniture to increase the seating capacity of the library and new desks to replace obsolete ones in two rooms.

A PHONY JUGGLING ACT

Taxpayers who may be keeping a wary eye on the federal government, to the exclusion of state and local governments, are making a grave and expensive mistake. For government at the under-federal level is showing a wolf-like appetite for more revenue.

Take, for instance, a situation in Oregon, which is more or less typical. One big element in a proposed new taxing program is the elimination of federal income tax payment as a credit against the state income tax.

It is argued that many other states do that now—which is to argue that a number of other wrongs add up to a right. All taxpayers would be paying a tax upon a tax, which is no longer income. This can be fairly classified as fiscal immorality. It is also argued that the loss from this would be minimized by the fact that state taxes are a credit against the federal tax. So, if a person paid a larger state tax, his federal tax would be reduced. That's about as phony an argument as one could drum up. It doesn't take a Merlin to anticipate what would happen if state laws result in substantial decreases in federal tax revenue. The federal government will drop the state taxes as credits.

THE ANTIOCH NEWS

Juggling the tax laws does no one any good. What counts is what is taken from the pockets of the taxpayer.

THE FLAMELESS ELECTRIC KITCHEN

WHEN YOU MODERNIZE YOUR KITCHEN, REMEMBER...

A flameless electric kitchen won't go out of date

The lady above demonstrates the amazing flexibility of a flameless electric kitchen. Because there are no fuel pipes to get in the way, she can have her automatic electric dryer wherever she wants it. There are no vents to install, no pilot to burn. So the entire laundry unit can fit into a small area behind attractive sliding doors.

Of course, the electric range is the heart of every flameless electric kitchen. With it, you can cook your meals without overheating your kitchen (or yourself). The oven is insulated on all six sides, not just five. Hardly any heat escapes. The surface units transfer heat directly into pans and into foods—not into your kitchen.

And because electric ranges burn no fuel, no dirt is created. Your kitchen (and everything in it) stays clean twice as long.

Before you spend a penny on kitchen remodeling, get a professionally-prepared plan based on your specific needs and budget. An experienced kitchen specialist can show you how imaginative planning can save you steps and eliminate unnecessary bending and reaching. He can also help you work out color schemes and lighting effects and help solve storage problems.

For the names and addresses of kitchen modernization specialists in your area, call your nearest Public Service Company office.

A Chevy II wagon looks this big when you load it up and this big when you gas it up

That—in the eyes of most Chevy II wagon owners—is just about the size of it.

A king-size appetite for cargo. But a dainty one for gas. And this, we hardly need add, is just the kind of wagon we planned it to be.

Taut and trim as it is on the outside, we went to great lengths to keep it BIG where a wagon should be BIG. The load platform extends a full nine feet from the back of the front seat to the tip of the lowered tailgate.

And for all the pepper we packed into that 6-cylinder engine (there's also a choice of an even thrifter 4 in most models), we were careful to keep it simple, easy to service—and a real stickler on economy.

Feel in a traveling mood? Well—happy coincidence—this is the time of year your Chevrolet dealer feels in his most generous trading mood. Looks like it's high time you two got together.

Twilight Golf League Gets Off To Chilly Start

The Spring Valley Twilight Golf League got off to its official start Tuesday evening as 12 four man teams braved the bitter cold and a gale-like wind to compete in the first matches.

Tuesday's action marked the third week of the league's play, the first two weeks were devoted to establishing a handicap. Players on each squad are rated according to their handicaps and the number one man on one team plays the number one man of the opposing squad. Likewise for the numbers 2, 3 and 4 men. The ratings may change each week as the handicaps may fluctuate.

Playing in foursomes, each group may win a possible 3 points, 1 point for each match and an additional point for the squad with the low medalist. Therefore it's possible for one team to score as much as 6 points, 3 in each foursome.

John Rogch of Antioch was the low medalist in the gross column, without handicap, with a score of 35. Ray Duer, Joe Martinucci and Ken Jungkams followed with 42 each. All played the back nine holes.

On the front nine, Sylvester Sillanoff topped the list of low gross players with a 41. Val Niepon and Al Reckers followed with 42 and 44 respectively.

Low net scores, i.e., with handicap, Steffens and Renschler came in on the back nine with 44-31 and 51-19-32 respectively. The front nine showed Mead Walker, 40-13-33, Val Niepon, 42-6-36, Don Richards, 48-12-36 as being low net scores.

Standings after the first matches are as follows: Antioch Lumber 6; Antioch Landscaping 5; Lang's IGA 4; Walker's Barber Shop 3½; Paddock Lake Lumber 3½; Antioch News 3; Spring Valley Country Club 3; Spring Valley Tap & Grill 2½; Bacon's Cheese Mart 2½; Paddock Lake 6; Stage Stop 1; Decker's Tavern 0.

BOATING WITH BOWMAN

HOW TO FIGURE YOUR PAINT NEEDS

By Hank Bowman
(Courtesy Sequoit Harbor)

It's cheaper to buy paint and varnish in large quantities, but there's no savings for the skipper who gets the big jumbo economy size and later throws half of it away. It's the rare boatman who doesn't find two or three half-filled cans of dried-out paint every time he cleans his storage shelves.

Simplifying the color scheme of your boat is the first step in painting economy. Three or four contrasting colors may give your job a gay circus-wagon look, but each time you introduce a new color, you also pave the way for extra maintenance cost.

There's less waste overestimating on two colors than on three or four.

When you figure on your paint needs, plan the overall job by dividing your boat into three separate sections: Bottom, sides from chines to sheers and topside, deck, cockpit and any super-structure.

As a general rule, a gallon of marine paint will cover 500 square feet of already painted surface or about 325 square feet of unpainted surface.

Varnish will cover about 750 square feet of surface previously varnished and about two-thirds as much when applied to bare wood.

If you plan to rid the surface of old paint or varnish with liquid remover, you can expect to soften about 200-250 square feet per gallon.

To figure the number of square feet of a bottom surface, the design of the boat must be considered. For an outboard of the semi-planing type, multiply the overall length of the hull in feet by the waterline beam at the stern. Deduct 20 per cent of this total to allow for the taper toward the bow.

For a deep keel boat such as an inboard cruiser, multiply the waterline length by the draft in feet. Then multiply this figure by 3.5.

Bottom surface of a sail boat of the centerboard type is figured by multiplying waterline length by draft in feet times 3.

Area of the sides in square feet is arrived at by multiplying the length of the hull around the gunwale in feet by the maximum freeboard in feet and then multiplying this result by 1.5.

The deck area of the boat is arrived at by multiplying the length of the deck in feet by the maximum beam in feet and then multiplying the result by .75.

John? Who Fan Club Is Loyal

John Pregenzer, Antioch's gift to major league baseball, returned to the minors this week. But John did not slip quietly into obscurity. He went down in a blaze of glory, wine and dined by his 800-member fan club.

John's fan club, known as the John Who? fan club, is headed by Novella O'Hara, a San Francisco secretary. She says the fan club will continue, despite his return to the minors.

The Giants were forced to return Jack to Tacoma when Commissioner Ford Frick said they couldn't option Chuck Hiller to the minor league club. So Jack had to go instead.

Cookin'?

By Harry H. Stern

ONE ROOSTER CAN'T HELP ANOTHER TO SCRATCH THE SAME PIECE OF GROUND.

Our Baltimore Orioles are back and have set up house-keeping in the big Elm (we still have a few left around here). They are one of the most beautiful birds and have a song almost as nice as the robins. They are a shy, secretive bird and rarely show themselves. Their presence is made known by their mating song. A purse-shaped nest is built way out on the thinnest branch (to keep squirrels and other predators out) among the leaves, which conceal it completely. Three eggs, usually, are laid and hatch with the young birds completely enveloped in the nest, their heads popping out of a small opening, to be fed, until they're old enough to leave under their own power.

In 1960 a heavy windstorm blew down the branch on which their nest was built (in our shagbark hickory, birds and all. One survived, the other two were killed. We couldn't leave the survivor on the lawn because if the varmints didn't get him, the elements would. So we placed some shredded tissue in a round Daisy Brand butter container, popped young Mr. B.O. in and hung it on the telephone wire. Mama oriole foraged for food and fed him, while papa oriole just sat around, keeping an eye on things (ain't it the truth?) I got some nice pics of the baby after I learned how to make him pop his head up and how to keep him from being knocked off by papa oriole. I noticed that as soon as mama landed on the edge of the nest, up popped the head. So, I set up a ladder, got my camera in position, tapped the nest, up came the head, snap went the shutter. I wonder if today's Orioles are the same pair?

They're catching bluegills at Earl & Barbara Beece's Spring Lake landing on Grass Lake Road. Couple of guys who found a bed of 'em made several trips in for more worms. They were running on the small side. Black bass have also been working pretty good here, too. Incidentally, the young Messrs. Beece and Rozek took their conservation display down to Champaign, to the State Science Fair finals and copied third place with their exhibit—against some pretty stiff competition—mostly from high school men. Good work, fellows!

Didn't you know, Annie honey, there's not much strength in an old (tea) bag?

Ed Sorenson had a string of seven nice bass in his Bait & Bull Foundry and he showed it to everyone who entered his fair bent on the reduction of the finny population, like a father showing pictures of his first son. He would not, however, tell WHO caught 'em, or WHERE. C'mon old buddy, you can't hold out on us like that. We've a right to know. Ed you didn't take 'em away from that little kid who was walking down the road all alone? Methinks I detect the scent of a Nubian in the Kiln.

Wadda you mean, you girls have no hunting season, Annie honey? Why, from the time you're six years old and have discovered there are boys, you've got an open season on us poor oxes—and invariably bag us.

Gossip is making a mountain out of a molehill—by piling on the dirt.

Heinie Ellis hooked into a 15 pound (the fish had his scales along) northern pike last week on the Rock River at Fort Atkinson and Ernie Dillabio lost no time in helping him lose it. You don't use a landing net when they get that big, Ern! You grab 'em in the eyes with the thumb and forefinger—that paralyzes 'em. In the good old days (when things were bad) we used a gaff hook. (No, girls, the guy who wields it is not an old gaffer.) Wanna bet Ed Sorenson'll have 'em in stock like real soon.

If you're smoking more now and enjoying it less—why not quit smoking?

Rudy Palenik reports that northern pike, stripers and crappies are on a hitting spree in Lake Marie. No signs of the bluegills there, yet. Black bass, northern stripers and crappies are still working good on Grass Lake. Charlie's Channel Inn on the south end of Channel Lake says they're bringing in some nice crappies, bass and northern stripers. Ditto at Shumeson's. No muskies though, said Barney. Milt Brozik has been seen poking around the weed beds, as the looking for something. C'mon Milt, give! Walleyes? Bluegills? Someone lose a nice casting rod?

Crash-Studded Feature Delights Race Fans

Don Sorce, West Allis, won a crash-studded 25-lap feature race for Modified stock cars at Waukegan Speedway Sunday night with Ted Rozinski second, Bob Karry, popular Waukegan driver third, Ed Irving fourth and Ed Humphries of Zion, fifth. Cars tangled in the first lap making a re-start necessary and a four-way crash stopped the event again a few laps later. Glen Eichmann, Lake Zurich, blew a tire and his car was crippled in the center of the east straightaway. The time was 7:20.52 for the 25 laps.

Gino Wagner, Milwaukee, topped the Sportsman feature of 12 laps, just beating out Dennis Burgan of Zion. Burgan had won the two previous Sportsman stock car feature races this season and was the 1962 division champion. Dick Aissen, McHenry, was third with Ray Bush of Silver Lake fourth and Jack Eather of Zion, fifth. Time of the race was 3:58.12.

In a special Hawaiian Pursuit race of six laps, Gregg Umek of North Chicago was the winner with Gordon Gorman of Libertyville second and Bob Hoffman of Round Lake third. Gordon Gorman, Russ Sorenson, Racine, and Umek had their own way in the first Modified heat at 3:00.46.

Glen Eichmann, Lake Zurich won the second Modified heat with Harold Wade, Waukegan, second and Jim Oullette, West Allis, third. John Reimer, Caledonia, took the third Modified heat with Junior Dodd, Waukegan, second and Paul Coen, West Allis, third.

In the Sportsman heat, Dick Aissen was the winner with Jerry Hintz, Kenosha, second, and Bobby Jackson, Zion, third.

Len Kannie, Kenosha, had a clean sweep of the Saturday races for Late Models at Waukegan Speedway when he took fast time, his heat race and the feature. Late model's race every Saturday night with the Sportsman and Sunday nights it is Modifieds and Sportsman.

Murray-Adams Lead Mixed Doubles

With the alleys of the Antioch Bowl closed for refinishing, bowling in the Antioch News Bowling Mixed Doubles is stalled until Saturday night, when proprietor Mike Shamberger says the Alleys will re-open.

Judi Murray and Tom Adams of Waukegan are leading the scoring as of now, with a total of 1271. Next are the Butenschloens, third Curly and Art Wertz, and fourth Earl and Helen Barnes.

The tournament will run through June 16. Trophies, to be given by the Antioch News for the three top places, in addition to the prizes, are on display in the window of the News office in Antioch.

Wilmot Speedway Gets Off To Flying Start

Saturday night was opening night for races at the Kenosha County Speedway in Wilmot, Wis., but the drivers drove like they had been at it for several weeks as they tore up new fence, rolled over cars and slammed together. All this was to the delight of the many fans who braved a cool evening for opening night races.

A new driver to the track, Johnny Reimers, of Caledonia, Wis., nearly tied the track record with a time of 18:05. He didn't do as well in the running but came back to manage a win in the fourth heat race. He was out of the feature with a broken drive shaft.

The 1962 Track Champion, Ed Stillman of Milwaukee, had a good night of it, as he started off the season with a win in the third heat and feature. The feature was a real thriller as fans got plenty of action starting when Bill Shoulders of Waukegan and Jr. Dodd of the same city, got together in the lower corner of the 4th lap.

Dodd went in the fence and made small firewood of the big timbers while Shoulders did a roll over, coming to rest on his side. The race was stopped and cars righted but Dodd was not able to continue. At this point Fran Seamans was leading, but on the restart he was soon overhauled by Nels Bush of Racine.

However, on lap 8 Bob Radachetz and Ed Irving tangled and when George Utech skidded into them, the track was blocked. By this time, Stillman had worked his way up from next to last to second and on the restart took over the lead.

Still another restart was necessary when Johnny Reimers' car lost a drive shaft on the main straightaway. Stillman retained his lead on this start and held it to the checker ahead of Ted Schuster of Kenosha; Bill Shoulders; Bob Karry; Waukegan, George Utech, Kenosha, and Fran Seamans, Milwaukee.

Other winners were Russ Sorenson, Racine; Glen Ickman, Waukegan; and Bob Humphries, Zion.

In the slam bang action of the spectator cars it looked like the Roger Hagle Enterprises team of five cars were going to lose out to Dick Aissen of McHenry, Ill., as he came from last place to take the lead. However, his rear axle broke and Hagle, "The Pride of Antioch," who had finally got around Jerry Hintz in a 1956 Ford went on to the win.

Next Saturday shapes up as an even more thrilling race in both the spectator car division and the modifieds, as the boys now know what their cars and the cars of the competition will do. This will be a busy week for car owners getting the cars ready to take the wins they have dreamed for all winter.

Time trials start at 7 p.m. and the first race at 8:30 p.m. More than 70 cars were on hand opening night and this number should pick up throughout the season.

THE 19th HOLE

BY GEORGE DIAMOND

If you are looking for an adventure in good eating this upcoming Memorial Day weekend, drive out to the George Diamond Charcoal Broiled Steak House at Highway 59 and Grass Lake Road in Antioch.

The steak house, which is open to the public all year round, is on the beautiful grounds of the private George Diamond Country Club. The tender, mouth-watering steaks served here are the same that have attracted the crowds to the George Diamond Charcoal Broiled Steak Houses at 512 S. Wabash and 1133 S. Wabash in Chicago and at the George Diamond Hotel in Palm Springs, Calif.

Best of all the price is right. Dinners start at $1.65. Though steaks are the "best sellers", another specialty of the house is a George Diamond shrimp dinner. It features one pound of delicious charcoal broiled shrimp. These large shrimps are imported from South America for George Diamond guests and probably do more for Pan-American relations than the "Alliance for Progress."

A good way to work up an appetite for those succulent steaks is to swing a golf club at our new open-to-the-public golf driving range just off the steak house's parking lot. The driving range is open at night, too, thanks to new quartz and mercury vapor glare-proof lamps. Forty tees are available on the golf driving range and there are grass tees, too, for practicing iron shots. Automatic golf-ball dispensing machines will fill your bucket in a jiffy.

In about a month our new 9-hole golf-under-lights course will be opened to the public. This day-and-night sports course features eight par-3 holes and then splurges to a 400-yard par 4 ninth hole. The night course is just north of the steak house's parking lot, opposite the driving range.

Golfers who dine at the George Diamond Charcoal Broiled Steak House may be interested in a tour of the nearby private George Diamond Country Club. A few memberships are still available; ask the hostess for details or call 391-0999 in Antioch.

After dinner you may find yourself in a dancing mood. If so, just cha-cha a few steps from the steak house dining room to the Go-Go Room where cocktails and music for your dancing await you. There is no minimum or cover charge in the Go-Go Room and we even absorb the ex-cise tax. Anyone for the bossa-nova?

Banquet rooms for private parties are available, too. Drive out to Highway 59 and Grass Lake Road and see for yourself.

Over 120 boys representing 6 grade schools turned out Wednesday for the Grade School track meet sponsored by the athletic department of the Antioch High School. The six schools were Antioch, Lake Villa, Oaklawn, Allendale, Prince of Peace, and St. Peter's. Boys from every school participating placed or received ribbons in the competition. Little League Opens Season

A large crowd crammed the bleachers at the Little League Park Sunday, May 19, to witness the opening game of the Little League season. Roman Vos tossed out the first ball and the Antioch Lumber Giants squared off against the W. J. Murphy Yankees. A color guard for the flag raising was furnished by the Boy Scouts. The Yankees scored 10 runs on 4 hits to edge the Giants 10 to 9. David Camp of the Giants hit the first home run of the season with no one on. Christenson, also of the Giants, hit one with 2 men on in the third inning. In the sixth inning, the Giants had one run in with the bases loaded and one out when Yankee catcher Joey Badame took over the mound duty and retired the next two men in a row. Harlan Ware has been hired to take over the umpire's duties this year so the league will not have to depend on volunteers any more. Next action at the park is scheduled for Thursday, May 23, when the Tigers take on the Giants.

Junior Bowlers Score In Tournaments

Junior bowlers who advanced to the semi-finals of the B.P.A.A. tournament were Roy Miller, Dale Crandall, John Wohlfell, Barbara Casella and Bob Lenczewski. Juniors who will receive trophies for winning in the Junior Division of the May-O-Graphic tournament are Wayne Slagle, Dean Ten-Bruin, Jim McCarthy, Dan Mattoni and Kenny Kasei. Seven thousand trophies were awarded in the nationwide tournament.

Pattins In 2nd Place At Lake Zurich

Those bowling Pattins did it again last Saturday night. Bowling with an Antioch squad in the Mixed Doubles at Lake Zurich, Madeline and Pat scattered the pins for a 1245 score to move into second place in that tournament. The Pattins captured third place in the recent Lake Forest doubles.
